Deputy Time Clock Coming Soon

Beginning February 25, 2018, we will no longer be using Paychex Time. We will start using Deputy. They have an Android and an Apple app. They are both free in the app store. The 800# to call in will no longer work. If you do not have a smart phone, please let Marie or Leigh know. We can work with you to get you another way to clock in.

All W-2s and 1099s have been mailed. If you have not received yours, please call the office to see if it has been returned.

REMEMBER – It is your responsibility to report to work on time or notify your supervisor 4 hours before your shift starts. Bad weather is not an excuse for missing work.

Communications – You can access all your personal information (contact, pay, withholdings, & tax) at the Paychex web-site. It is your responsibility to keep your contact information current.

Our web-site has information that you can access. You can also view your vacation balance, for those who are eligible. Please visit http://www.ekgsecurity.com/employee-contractor-information/

Training – We will be updating individual training plans. Be on the lookout for great information.

STRONG BIZ WEST (also referred to as "BZ," is a naval signal, typically conveyed by flag hoist or voice radio, meaning "Well Done").

Bravo Zulu (also referred to as "BZ," is a naval signal, typically conveyed by flag hoist or voice radio, meaning "Well Done").
Something about you. Over the course of the last year, I had been focusing on a long term goal of physical fitness. Getting back into shape from having not taken it very seriously after graduating high school. I have lost over 60 pounds over the last 8 months and continuously attend Crossfit at least 3-4 times a week. It IS entirely possible if I can pull it off and will always bring you a refreshing sense of pride.

What do you like most about your job? The emphasis on procedure. Those of us out there that want to bring order to a world so bent on being chaotic would enjoy the field of Security. Nothing is more comforting than when even in situations that may seem impregnable to the untrained, you will know exactly what to do.

What are your plans for the future? Provided the US Military will take a willing volunteer with a meager heart condition, I'll be serving in the Armed Forces for the foreseeable future. But even not providing that, I would hope that with the skills I've been able to acquire over the years and with this company will set me on the right path to excel in any field I choose. And maybe, eventually, have a family there

What advice can you share with new officers? "Eyes open and ears up." Attentiveness and the willingness to learn will be your creed in most in not any business venture. However, in security, your entire profession is based upon gathering information. Most often you'll have guidance when you encounter a new site, but if you focus on gathering information and noticing certain queues and routines with each location, you'll be excellent at this and a welcome addition to any site crew.
